Making good fostering assessments

Thursday 5 & Friday 6 February, 2009 London
Thursday 2 & Friday 3 July, 2009 London

These two-day workshops will provide an opportunity for workers to update their knowledge and skills and to share ideas and good practice with colleagues.

Day One

- An update on the use of the Prospective Foster Carer(s) Report (Form F)
- The need for rigorous checks and references and the implications of the Brighton & Hove Part 8 Serious Case Review into the death of JAS
- Research evidence that supports the use of the psychodynamic approach to assessments
- The impact of personal values and assumptions on the assessment process

Day Two

- Conscious and unconscious competency
- Systemic assessments
- Tools to use in assessment
- Applying what we have learned to current assessments

The format for this workshop strongly emphasises participative learning – small group work, quizzes, role-play and case studies – as well as formal teaching.
